RE: Site Inspection, Absolute Minerals and Mining Incorporated, Ammi Mine, S/019/035
(UTU-72488), Grand County, Utah

Date of Inspection: January 17, 2001
Time of Inspection: 1625 - 1715
Conditions: Sunny and cool
Participants: Tony Gallegos, DOGM

Purpose of Inspection: To document the current conditions of the site.

The gate on the road leading into the site was locked. I parked the vehicle outside the gate and walked into the site. The area had received 1-2 inches of snow cover, which was still present in the shaded areas. A series of photographs were taken looking toward the east over the mine site from the hill above and southwest of the main building. I then walked from here around the diversion berm up to the top of the scalped knoll.

Another series of photos were taken from up on this knoll looking over the site toward the north and northwest. No one was present at the site at this time. Additional photos were taken showing the top surface of the knoll, looking toward the east. From here I walked around the site and over to the pump site on the bank of the Dolores River. Several photos were taken of the pump site, and of the view looking from the river along the pipeline corridor towards the building. From here I returned to the vehicle and left the site.

In general, there appeared to be little change in the site conditions since the last Division inspection. Photos from this inspection will need to be compared with previous site photos to determine if there have been any changes.
